

SOLUTION BRIEF:

Refresh Your Transportation Technology and Do More

Go Far Beyond Just Compliance

Conforming with the federal electronic logging device mandate is just a tiny part of what mobile devices can do for your fleet management operations. As logistics companies look to improve efficiency and productivity with technology refreshes, they're finding multiuse devices can do ELD, optimized routing, real-time monitoring, and much more—all while allowing drivers to privately access their personal life and entertainment without compromising data security.

Together with Samsung, Stratix offers rugged fleet management solutions backed by our best-in-class lifecycle services and support. We help keep your drivers on the move and your logistics services running smoothly.

Samsung's XCover Pro Can Handle Life on the Road

Durable and reliable, the Samsung XCover Pro is loaded with features that make a trucker's life easier.

Built Tough for the Way Drivers Work

- Durable design withstands drops, spills, and harsh environments
- Galaxy XCover Pro passed MIL-STD-810H testing, including a 1.5m drop test (4.9 ft.)
- IP68 rating means Galaxy XCover Pro withstands dust and water

Faster Connection, Smoother Jobs

- High-speed 5G and Wi-Fi 6E connectivity delivers information fast
- CBRS-ready for a powerful and efficient communication option for drivers

Defense-Grade Security

- Samsung's Knox security platform keeps drivers' personal communications and information separate from work—company data stays secure, and the great features of the XCover help you recruit and retain qualified drivers.

A Touchscreen That Lets Drivers Keep the Gloves On

- Sensitive touchscreen tracks finger movements, even when wet
- Keeps hands protected with gloves while working in wet, damp, or humid environments.

XCover Pro is Even Better with Stratix Managed Mobile Services

Stratix excels in the end-to-end management of the entire portfolio of Samsung mobile devices, including the Galaxy XCover Pro. Our services include:

- Mobile solution consulting – Rely on our years of expertise to guide you to the perfect enterprise mobile solution program for your logistics operational needs.
