SOLUTION BRIEF:

Brother Mobile Printing and Labelling Solutions for Healthcare

Being able to print everything from wristbands to specimen labels wherever they are helps caregivers save time, reduce errors, improve patient care, and be more productive. Printed barcode labels integrate paper and digital content to dramatically streamline workflows. Producing documents like leave-behind patient instructions saves time and improves communication.

Brother printing solutions can not only handle all kinds of materials—from laminated wristbands to durable plastic labels—they also support electronic health record interoperability with triple-layer security that helps with HIPAA compliance.

Stratix offers the full range of Brother printers, including these popular models for healthcare:

PocketJet Series

Print full-page documents on the move right from popular computers and mobile devices. Brother PocketJet printers have set the standard for full-page portable thermal printers for more than 30 years.

RuggedJet Family

Quickly and reliably print 1-inch to 4-inch labels, tags, and more from wireless, tested-tough devices.

P-touch EDGE Handheld Label Printer Series

On-demand serialized and barcode labeling for healthcare applications. P-touch EDGE handheld label printers help you save time, manage projects, and print accurate labels that last.
